

Independent Radio News / London Broadcasting Company Bibliography

- Chignell, H., 2007. The London Broadcasting Company (LBC) Independent Radio (IRN) Archive. Twentieth Century British History, 18 (4) 514–525.
- Culf, A., 1994. Britain's oldest commercial radio station bids its listeners farewell. The Guardian (5 Oct 1994): 4.
- Culf, A., 1994. New look, news sound. The Guardian (3 Oct 1994): A15.
- Culf, A., 1991. Squawk radio's sound and fury: LBC claims new boss Charlie Cox has revived its flagging fortunes but some cry hype and others decry a bruising style of management. The Guardian (12 Aug 1991).
- Draper, A., 1980. Alarming success helps to put small studio on the map. The Times (7 Feb 1980): 15.
- Ferris, P., 1973. The commercial sound. The Observer (14 Oct 1973): 37.
- Ferris, P., 1973. Enter commercial radio, out of breath. The Observer (7 Oct 1973): 3.
- Ferris, P., 1979. Voices of our time. The Observer (30 Sep 1979): 20.
- Graff, V., 2003. How we beat the BBC. The Independent (14 Oct 2003): 10.
- The Guardian, 1977. LBC hits back at Annan. The Guardian (9 Sep 1977): 3.
- The Guardian, 1977. Pay row puts radio station off the air. The Guardian (21 Jul 1977): 2.
- The Guardian, 1993. Tearful callers mourn 'friend'. The Guardian (4 Sep 1993): 3.
- Hayes, B., 1989. Screen: No way to talk - LBC phone-in host Brian Hayes has been called the rudest man on radio. But even he's no Barry Champlain. British audiences, Hayes argues here, would never switch on to the 'slime-time' show. The Guardian (14 Sep 1989).
- Hayes, B., 1995. Talk Radio UK. The Guardian (8 May 1995): A15.
- Kelly, T., 1989. LBC divides to rule in London. Campaign (25 Aug 1989).
- Mackie, R., et al., 1973. Something new on the air. Sounds (6 Oct 1973): 10-11.
- Murray, I., 1974. How LBC got its chance. The Observer (27 Jan 1974): 7.
- Norman, P., 1974. Philip Norman gives London Broadcasting and Capital Radio an airing. The Guardian (14 Jan 1974): 8.

Smith, S., 1990. Media: Dramatic intervention - A deal with the Woolwich has revitalised commercial radio drama. The Guardian (22 Jan 1990).

Twisk, R., 1993. Radio: Creative boys across the river. The Observer (15 Aug 1993): 55.

Walker, M., 1973. Open file. The Guardian (15 Nov 1973): 17.

Wallace, B., 1973. A quiet radio first." The Guardian (8 Oct 1973): 7.

Wells, M., 2002. Last chance to talk. The Guardian (11 Nov 2002): 95.

Wroe, M., 1990. Radio: The three ad play; Martin Wroe reports on a company which aims at replacing seamless pop with radio drama. The Independent (23 Mar 1990): 14.

Rob Ford
LBC/IRN Digitisation Project
November 2008